COVID-19 VACCINE INFORMATION LEAFLET - YOUR RIGHT TO KNOW

The government has spent £12 billion of public money on 340 million doses of various vaccines. These vaccines have been fast-tracked through the approval process on emergency grounds. Unlike other vaccines which have taken 10-15 years in the research and development process, these early coronavirus vaccines have taken less than 12 months. These are not like flu vaccines which have been tried, tested and adjusted over the years. Many of the short, medium and long term effects of taking these Covid-19 vaccines remain unknown.

Western governments have granted pharmaceutical companies a legal indemnity protecting them from being sued. You cannot claim for any damage to your health from the Covid-19 vaccine manufacturers.

Your only recourse with the government is to make a claim for £120,000 where you have to prove at least 60% disablement as a result of taking a Covid-19 vaccine. No other damages can be claimed.

What is the sufficient information you should be provided with to make your own Informed Choice?

You should insist on a personal consultation with your doctor to obtain medical advice on whether to accept a Covid-19 vaccine and if there is another option for you.

You should insist your GP provide details of the vaccine ingredients and its PROS and CONS for YOUR specific health circumstances.

Some vaccines may only have been trialled on limited age groups. If you believe a vaccine trialled on individuals within your specific age range is best suited for your personal needs, please discuss with your GP.

Do not let the authorities assume your consent to this mass vaccination programme. Take advice first.

It is important to remember that an individual must give permission before they receive any type of medical treatment, and the NHS advise: 'for consent to be valid, it must be voluntary and informed, and the person consenting must have the capacity to make the decision.'

The last major controversial vaccination programme the government was involved in was Swine Flu back in 2009/10.

Swine Flu vaccine approval, like the Covid-19 vaccines was fast tracked by the European Medicines Agency (EMA), despite minimal clinical trials.

On this occasion the UK government vaccinated six million people from "high risk" groups and subsequently paid out £60 million in damages to sixty individual claimants. NHS Staff were amongst those told that it was safe for them, yet some sued for damages.

Do not assume these Covid -19 vaccines are safe for everyone - make sure they are safe for you! Remember, vaccines are irreversible.

Ask why the government wants to vaccinate so many people:

- 1.) When the vast majority of the population are not adversely affected by the virus therefore do not require the vaccine
- 2.) When the vaccines, although reduce symptoms, do not stop transmission

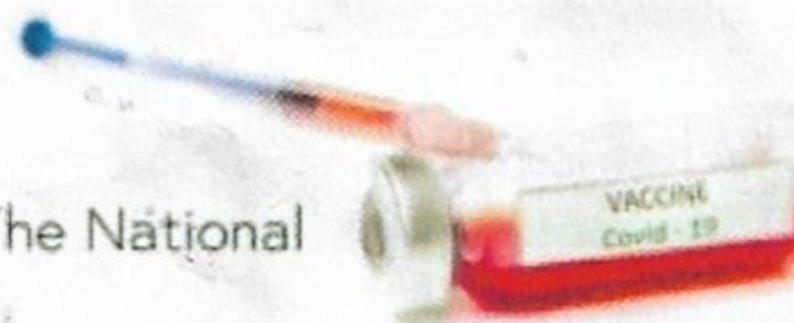

REMEMBER, you cannot be forced to have these Covid-19 vaccines.

You have the right to say No! It is your body and your health, not the government's!
